5 INTRODUCTION

a) APAS is a pre-qualification Certification Scheme for paint, surface coating, waterproofing and non-paint products, such as glass beads. It is designed to give the greatest confidence to financial Members of the scheme (infrastructure owners/managers, industry stakeholders and industry aligned organisations) that their chosen product will achieve its designed service when applied in accordance with the manufacturer's recommendations. The use of PCCP accredited applicators provides an additional level of assurance that coatings and other materials will be applied correctly and coupled with an appropriate quality assurance process, should minimise the risk of premature failure. The Australian community generally also benefits by better management of asset protection activities and reduced spending on maintenance activities.
